Your Return Rights

In the unlikely event that you are not satisfied with you purchased item(s) and wish to return, you have 28 days to do so after receipt of your order. Please note that you will return the product without damage or trace of use, in its original packing and securely packed to avoid any damage during transport. The cost of getting your return to us, is for your own account.

Please cut off the top of the form to use as address sticker and insert the bottom of the form in the return package. You will receive, if desired, the purchase amount including (a part of) the original shipping and handling costs (if charged). Please see our Delivery & Returns policy on www.iconeyewear.eu for further details. When the trial period of 28 days (from the delivery of the item) has expired, the purchase agreement becomes a fact. Unless the products have since been returned in good condition. Use and/or damage to the items will make the purchase final, even when you return it.
